Associate Dana Lui is a member of the Best Best & Krieger's Labor & Employment team. Dana focuses her practice on supporting public entities with labor and employment issues and in public entity litigation.

Dana brings experience working with a number of public agencies, including school districts, cities, and other public clients. She advises human resource personnel and administrators on a wide variety of labor and employment issues, including discipline and terminations, complaints and grievances, and interactive process meetings and accommodation issues. Dana also conducts school and workplace investigations, and has experience representing public employers in administrative hearings before the Office of Administrative Hearings. Further, Dana litigates cases for public and private employers and regularly defends employers in state and federal court on a variety of lawsuits, including allegations related to personal injury, constitutional violations, FEHA violations, and other claims related to harassment, discrimination, and retaliation.

Dana's practice has always focused on government agencies and public interest work. While in law school, she worked on matters ranging from representing the State in hearings and arguing motions in felony criminal cases with the Los Angeles District Attorney's Office, assisting incarcerated veterans with the Orange
